Dear Mr. Hawa,

Thank you for helping with the Miami Beach event on May 23rd. My family and I have been touched by the outpouring of support we have received throughout my campaign for President, and I appreciate your willingness to help.

By helping my advance staff prepare for our event at the Bath Club, you were important in making my visit a success, and I appreciate it. We've campaigned across the country for well over a year now and it has been an extraordinary journey. I've heard from countless Americans about what inspires them, and what they struggle with from day to day. I've met with regular working people and policy experts, and through this process I've developed a vision of a new American future of shared opportunity and prosperity. And to achieve this vision, we've laid out detailed policy proposals and a grassroots network of engaged Americans who will stand up and work every day until we achieve the changes we seek.

We've accomplished much, but we need your continued assistance to secure victory in November. I hope you'll get more involved in advancing a new kind of politics that replaces partisan pettiness with honest conversation in pursuit of constructive change. Please bookmark www.BarackObama.com and visit often. The campaign website has a lot of information in case you have more questions about my background, positions, or upcoming events. It also has a set of tools called my.BarackObama.com that empower you to get involved by networking with friends, neighbors, and supporters around the country.

Mr. Hawa, thank you again for all of your time and energy.

Sincerely,

Barack Obama
